Headline:
Cloudy, wet morning then brighter, showery afternoon.

Today:
Dull and wet this morning with the rain heavier for a time. Also strong southeast winds with coastal gales. Drier, brighter weather with scattered showers reaching Fermanagh later this morning, extending to all parts this afternoon with winds becoming lighter. Maximum temperature 12 deg C (54 deg F).

Tonight:
It will be rather cloudy overnight with some drier weather at first then scattered showers returning. Winds becoming strong again, this time from a northerly direction. Minimum temperature 4 deg C (39 deg F).

Tuesday:
It will stay rather cloudy with further showers. The showers most frequent in the afternoon, especially over Antrim. Feeling cooler with fresh northwesterly winds. Maximum temperature 10 deg C (50 deg F).

Outlook for Wednesday to Friday:
The showery theme will continue for the rest of the week. Some heavier showers are likely but dry, sunny spells too. Staying quite cold with a frost risk at nights.
